Woman's Club to Start Local Mental Health Chapter

Members of the Antioch Woman's Club voted last Tuesday to form a local chapter of the Lake County Mental Health Society.

The decision was made at a garden party at the home of Mrs. Edmund F. Vos, 576 Main St., Antioch. About thirty women attended the "Punch, Petit Fours and Progress" party.

Mrs. Eric Weis, Mental Health Educator from the Lake County Clinic of Mental Health, and Mrs. W. E. Heringlake, a member of the board of the Lake County Mental Health Society, told the women of the growing need for mental health facilities, and advantages of a local chapter and the problems and expenses of supporting mental health treatment.

Mrs. Weis told the women of the great need for more facilities to treat mental illness. The mentally disturbed person, she told them, can be a disrupting influence in the lives of all members of his family, even affecting the community, in addition to his own problems.

Forming a local chapter will bring plenty of work, Mrs. Weis warned the women. Education, which helps to remove the stigma still associated with mental health problems; fund-raising, and "office" work, record-keeping and filing, are some of the actual work involved.

At the end of the session, the women voted to form the local chapter. Mrs. Shirley Stanich and Mrs. Annette Lubkeman were appointed co-chairmen of the committee to "start the ball rolling." Eventual aim of the Antioch Chapter will be establishment of some kind of local mental health service, possibly on a basis of a clinic one-half day a week, manned by personnel from the Lake County Clinic.

Kelly Wins The Grand Prize

Kelly Corbel, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Corbel of Rt. 5, Antioch, got a nice birthday present last Wednesday. Kelly won the Grand Prize, about $300 worth of assorted merchandise, on Bozo the Clown's program.

Kelly's birthday is July 17. She always watches Bozo on TV. Mrs. Corbel says, but Wednesday she got so interested in dancing that she forgot to switch to her favorite program. Someone called and told Mrs. Corbel that her daughter had won, but it was too late to hear the details by the time she switched stations.

Kelly won by sending her name in. A child in the audience drew her name. The odds against winning are pretty astronomical, and that makes Kelly's good luck even more astounding.

Mrs. Corbel isn't sure what all the prizes are yet, but they include a bike, a camera, games and some cash. "And candy," Kelly added.

Residents Have 90 Days To Hook Into Sewers

The village board instructed the village clerk Tuesday night to send letters to all homeowners in Oakwood Knolls giving them notice that they must hook into the village sewers within 90 days or by October 15.

Eighty-seven residents of the subdivision remain without sewer service. Attorney Jacobs told the board that the ordinance, passed on July 12, 1957, provided that all village residents should be hooked into the sewers within six months after completion of the sewers.

Twenty-seven of the residents who still have septic tanks have already paid the hook-up fee in order to take advantage of the lower price.

Attorney Jacobs said the ordinance provided for a penalty of not less than $10 a day nor more than $100 a day for each property owner in violation of the ordinance. Bids for the construction of a masonry well house for pump No. 4 were opened. The contract was awarded to Benes Construction of Antioch on a low bid of $5,300. A bid was also submitted by Certified Construction in the amount of $5,835.

The board approved a motion to re-surface McMillen Road with 2 inches of topping and to advertise for bids on the work.

Vern Barnstable announced that work on sidewalk on Victoria St. should start this week. Trustee Roger Williams asked that the sidewalks near the Scott House and Library be replaced soon. Mayor Ray Toft instructed Barnstable to list the areas most in need of repair, and to take care of them next.

A bill of $789.63 for a notor on a pump and some pipe, submitted by E. H. Glenn & Co., was approved for payment.

The board approved a motion to advertise for bids on a new squad car for the police department, and to buy an air conditioner for the police station.

Trustee Arthur Meierdink, chairman of the police committee, reported that Chief Jack Heick had attended a meeting of police chiefs from throughout the county last week. A plan was developed at the meeting to provide for aid in any town or village in an emergency, such as tornado, riots, etc.

Under the plan, each municipality entering into the agreement would send two policemen to aid in any of the member towns in an emergency. Each village would pay their own men.

In case of an emergency, Antioch or any other town in trouble could count on the help of about 90 policemen.

The board authorized Chief Heick to enter into the agreement. The action would not take the regular patrolmen away from Antioch, Meierdink pointed out. Only off-duty police would be called on.

The village attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance providing for a No Parking area on the south side of Orchard from David St. to Hillside.

A disaster plan, itemizing the chain of command and duties of each village department or organization in case of an emergency, was presented to the board for approval. The plan was prepared by Civil Defense Director Edward Frazier. The plan was approved.

Drownings Mar Holiday

Five persons drowned in Lake County Monday, and a 7-year-old Libertyville boy drowned Saturday in Twin Lakes, Wis.

Louis Marano, 32, of Brookfield, Wis., drowned in the channel near Grass Lake when he was thrown from a boat when it made a sharp turn.

Robert Harvey, 30, of River Grove, was operating the boat. He told sheriff's deputies the boat tipped over as he made a turn. Marano, his wife and two sons, Harvey, his wife and their two-year-old daughter were thrown from the boat. All were rescued except Marano.

Cornelius Warfield, 15, of Chicago drowned in Grass Lake. He was swimming and choked. Two youths tried to rescue him, but he nearly pulled them under.

William Finnegan of Glenview struck his head on a diving board while diving. The Wauconda Fire Department tried to revive him but could not.

Gloria Ann Ringer, 22, of Chicago, and Joseph Marcuski, Jr., of Chicago, drowned in Bluff Lake. The Antioch Rescue Squad spent about an hour dragging before recovering the bodies.

Mrs. Ringer and Marcuski were in a boat when a swimmer grabbed Miss Ringer's hand and accidentally pulled her into the water. Marcuski jumped in to save her and went under with her.

A four-year-old girl, Dawn Trepanier of 605 Oakwood, Waukegan, was saved by an unidentified swimmer who

Rescue Squad Keeps Busy

As is expected on a long holiday weekend, the Antioch Rescue Squad had numerous calls. Besides being called to aid drowning and near-drowning victims, they answered the following calls last week:

June 30, aided J. E. Purvis, Wadsworth, when he fell off a ladder and sustained a possible broken hip.

Mrs. John Dallman, Indian Point, was helped on July 2 when she ran off Grass Lake Road with her car and sustained cuts on her face.

July 3 Susan Zielinski, 3653 W. Palmer St., Chicago, discharged a fire extinguisher in her mouth and face at Stanley's Resort and was taken to the Antioch Clinic.

July 3, Frank Marotta, Rt. 5, Antioch, was aided at the scene when his motor cycle collided with a car near the Canvas Shop on Rt. 173.

Legion Carnival In Full Swing

The carnival sponsored by the Antioch American Legion Post 748 got under way Tuesday night and will run through Sunday, July 10.

In addition to the regular rides, booths and games, there will be several booths sponsored by local civic organizations. The Legion Auxiliary will have a cake and coffee booth; the Antioch Lions Club will have a photography booth, where you can have your picture taken as one of several comic book characters. The proceeds of this booth will be used for the benefit of the Antioch Aqua Center.

The American Field Service will have a booth, too, dubbed "Operation Dairy Queen." T. E. Cardwell of the Dairy Queen is donating ice cream sandwiches, Dilly bars and Malties which Antioch High Students are selling at the carnival. The proceeds will go into the AFS fund for transportation costs of the next Foreign Exchange student.

Girls Preview Fall Shoe Styles

Four Antioch girls went on the kind-of shoe-shopping tour every woman loves last week. Surrounded by dozens of the new fall styles, they didn't spend a cent. They picked out the styles they liked, and finally got to take home one pair each, whichever was their favorite.

The four did their novel shopping at a wholesale display room. They were taken to Chicago by Lou Simon, owner of the Shoe Box, and his wife Sharon.

Lou's idea was to sound out the real, teenage preference for shoe styles—and price. "I found out these girls are mighty careful with their money," Lou said. "They didn't want expensive shoes."

Lou checked the girls' preferences against the items he'd picked for his fall stock, and found that he and the girls agreed on most styles. A few that they liked he added to his order.

The four girls, all from Antioch High School, were Dale Collins, Linda Pierce, Kathy Mayerle and Nikki Nissen. The four girls were selected by members of the faculty—of the High School.

Kathi Mayerle said she had a wonderful time previewing the fall fashions. "The rounded toe is definitely in for fall," she said. "And high heels are out. They say it's because of the short skirts."

"I still have trouble getting used to the round toes," Kathi said. "We all do." "There's a lot of suede in the fall styles. A lot of maroon, too—the shoes are color-keyed to match the clothes. The saddle loafers are out. There's a lot of T-straps, sling heels and cut-outs."

"There was one new style we all liked," Kathi said. "The Pilgrim style—round toe and a big buckle and a strap around the ankle, sort of a little-girl style. But we all liked it in black patent leather—no other leather."

So there's your preview of the fall shoe styles. Lou says he hopes to make the trip a yearly event. That's one way of keeping up with the teen-age preferences.

Laws For Laws Sake

The Illinois Supreme Court, in a recent decision, decided that a county board could not go ahead and build a courthouse without the voters O.K.ing the proposition in a bond issue.

That was the contention of the Association of Collective Taxpayers, who tried to prevent the Lake County Board from ignoring the results of the defeated referendum, and who proceeded to build a courthouse, anyway.

Taisto Aho says "This is different". The county board, defeated in the referendum, formed a Building Committee, who, they said, could go ahead with the plans legally.

The ruse was a rather obvious circumventing of the law. The courts upheld them in their action.

There is probably no law so carefully worded that its intent cannot be defeated, if enough men put their minds to it, and they can find a friendly court to interpret the law law as they wish. And it's too bad that distortion of the intent of a law is so easily allowed.

There is probably little doubt in the minds of either lawyers or judges as to the intent of the law. If they don't know the history of the laws, why a particular body passed a law, they should. Yet more and more the intent of a law is ignored, while lawyers and judges weigh each word to seek any possible application.

The intent of the law preventing a county board from spending certain monies without the approval of the taxpayers is clear--its meant to give the taxpayer a voice in deciding whether or not he wants to spend his money for a certain improvement. If the voters decide that they simply are not willing to pay for a new court house, that should settle the matter until another referendum is held.

The voters had only one real recourse when their vote was disregarded—to vote out of office, at the next election, the men who approved the Building Commission. Passing up that opportunity, they, too, joined in their own defrauding.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Action by Illinois Attorney General William Clark in blocking the price increase proposed by union barbers in Lake County is most gratifying because it proves the state is determined to protect the voters against rapacious businessmen.

There are some, no doubt, who are wondering why the same zeal wasn't displayed a few weeks back when the Lake County Bar Association voted to adopt a new fee scale for all Lake County barristers.

The difference is, of course, that the barbers set a definite amount to be charged for haircuts, shaves and shampoos among other services offered by the tonorial artists, whereas a fee scale set by the attorneys is only a minimum amount that is to be charged.

Can you imagine the Attorney General going into court before a member of the local bar association to challenge the right of attorneys to set minimum fee scales?

One can sympathize with the barbers under present conditions because they are caught between the skinheads and the beatlebrains who either don't need frequent visits to barbershops or shun them completely in keeping with the new styles.

The re-election of Robert J. Milton as chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee was accomplished with ridiculous ease despite predictions of a bitter struggle for control of the party.

Following on the heels of his defeat for the GOP nomination for County Treasurer it might be easy to comment that the precinct committeemen are out of touch with the Republican voters.

It might be more correct to say the Milton opponents are out of touch with the rest of the Republican Party in Lake County.

The portly political leader has been a target for the same groups during most of his tenure and some uneasy alliances are formed temporarily before each county convention in an effort to unseat him, but these alliances have yet to withstand the threat of a possible floor fight.

Maybe it's time for the anti-Milton forces to come forward with a sincere pledge of unity and give the chairman full support for the next two years working within the framework of the regular organization.

Their opposition might have a more sincere ring two years from now if they can say they tried to get along, but the chairman wouldn't cooperate.

Against the GOP chairman race it seems to us that E. Kenny Harlan hurt himself politically by withdrawing from the race at the last minute.

His close friendship with Milton was well-known and cynics can be forgiven if they see in his candidacy a stalking-horse relationship with his old fraternity brother.

Harlan points out with considerable justification that his head count indicated he did not have the votes, but there are many committeemen who did not want to declare themselves in advance of the voting because they weren't convinced there would be a contest.

A clear-cut decision in the arena may produce wounds, but they are open wounds that don't fester.

Judicial candidates from the western part of the county can be expected to maneuver for a compromise that would insure one new

By Pearl Kapell

The green scum of algae which has become the bane of the lake region is already forming a scum over the lakes and the channels. Biologists tell us it's one of the steps in "aging," and that unless the aging process can be halted and reversed, our lakes will deteriorate to the point where they're useless.

The reason for the algae, say the biologists, is the excess of nutrient in the water. Sewage systems, though they remove 99% of the harmful bacteria in some cases, leave the water enriched. Industries dump fertilizing agents in the water, and even rain wash more fertilizer from the land into the water.

The problem is almost nationwide as the land becomes more thickly settled. And, obviously, sooner or later someone is going to come up with a workable solution. One that will keep the nation's waters clear and safe, and still allow for the operation of sewage plants and industry.

A step in that direction has been taken in a test plant in Kansas. An article in the Christian Science Monitor describes the operation of the plant.

The plant uses the same algae which "bugs" lake-dwellers and conservationists to remove the extra nutrients from the water.

The plant is cheap and it works, though there are still details to be determined, such as the exact size needed to serve a large sewage plant.

The plant contains two tanks, a slowly revolving paddle wheel, and a line of fluorescent lights. The first tank contains water, algae and bacteria. The bacteria eat the organic materials, the algae eat the inorganic materials.

The water is pumped into a second tank after sufficient time has elapsed for algae and bacteria to do their work. The algae and bacteria are removed to be used again. The water from the second tank is 99% free of organic and inorganic pollution.

So the solution seems to lie in putting the hated algae to work in enclosed ponds so that the public waters can remain free and clear. Maybe, one of these days, cleaning up the nation's waterways will become the object of a campaign as intensive as the civil rights movement or the war on poverty. Let's hope it won't take too long.

TEACHING TIDINESS. THE EASY WAY: Kids may toss wrappers and bags down in the streets in most places, but not in a children's zoo in New York. There the trash cans are designed to resemble rather futuristic pigs, by the painted addition of an eye and a mouth and a slightly modified construction, on the lid is the legend, "I eat anything." So of course the kids feed it.

Would you pay to watch a girls' high school basketball team compete against a team from another school?

The trend in physical education, so they say, is toward inter-school competition of girls' athletic teams. The judge from their area and one judge from Waukegan in the jousting for party nominations in the judicial convention next month.

The withdrawal of Ezra D. Isa as a candidate leaves the county fields to magistrates Tom Doran, of Mundelein; Eugene T. Daly, of Grayslake, and Harry Strouse, of Wauconda.

A possible added starter is State's Attorney Bruno W. Stanczak, of Libertyville, who would probably be happy to shed the burden of his present office for the comparative political quiet of judicial tenure.

Waukegan Magistrate John Hughes, a Democrat, is a serious threat to Republican domination of the Lake County bench because of his record and Republican committeemen would do well to consider qualifications rather than political advantage in making their nominations.

Ah-h-h July

The month of July is certainly one of the most enjoyable months of the year. With watermelon, fishing trips, backyard barbecues, the pungence of a sudden rain shower, Sunday drives through the green countryside, and watching the neighborhood children having priceless pleasure beneath the lawn sprinklers. Ah, to be young again!

Successful Sale

The annual Rummage Sale at St. Peter's was a tremendous success, but there was such a large amount of items donated this year, that they are having a five and ten cent sale this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Not Criticizing

Couldn't help but comment on the attire of one of our devoted firemen last Saturday. I pulled my car over to let the truck pass, and hanging on the back end was this fireman dressed in T-shirt, Bermuda shorts, and boots. It was too comical for words.

girls need the exercise and the competition as much as the boys.

Undoubtedly there would be some difference in the rules under which they'd play. And I doubt if they'll go in for football. But there are a good many sports at which girls excel, and why shouldn't they have the fun, and the glory, as well as the boys?

As temperatures are soaring, why don't you plan a trip to South Pacific one of the evenings of July 23, 24, 29, 30, or 31? It may not completely beat the heat, but it will take your mind away from it!

South Pacific by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, with book by Hammerstein and Joshua Logan, is one of the most popular Broadway musicals and is a combination package of fun, music and pure sentimentalism.

Several plots weave themselves into the story of South Pacific. Ensign Nellie Forbush (Sydney Mortony) falls in love with the French plantation owner Emile De Beque. Nellie is from Little Rock and finds the setting of the South Pacific isle and Emile's kind of life quite overwhelming. When she realizes he is the father of two native children (Susan and Jimmy Abernolden) she feels she can never marry him.

Lieutenant Cable (Lloyd Pedersen) comes to the South Pacific on a mission to contact Emile and persuade him to come with him to hide on a Japanese island and spy on enemy activities. Before Cable leaves, he falls in love with the lovely native girl, Liat (Nancy Seyfarth). Their love proves tragically hopeless.

Bloody Mary (Charlotte Worswick) is the favorite of the men of the armed forces located on the island, mainly because she seems so gullible, and because they enjoy teaching her the American "language." She is a shrewd character, however, and has managed to disrupt the economy of the entire southern Pacific area. Her main goal is to marry her daughter, Liat, to a handsome Marine Lieutenant.

And then there is Luther Billis, played by Dr. Al Bucar. He is the comic, the clown, the organizer, and, oddly enough, one of the heroes of the entire plot. He operates the laundry service, the shower service, sells grass skirts, and is the bane of the existence of the commanding officers of the island (Don Beveroth and Steve Kratz). His two side kicks, Stewpot (Bob Thomley) and the Professor (Bruce

Dear Editor:

What is happening to this country of ours? Has our government gone so far off that all they can think of is super highways and dams, and means of making a mess of our country? Mr. Johnson our president tells us we should see our country. Why see it if all beauty is destroyed? Does this country have to be an asphalt jungle and a mass of ruins?

County Industrial Growth Certain, Needs Planning

John G. Ronchetto, speaking to members of the Lake County Savings & Loan league recently, prophesied good industrial growth in Lake County in the future, and commented on some of Lake County's assets and problems in relation to that growth. Ronchetto is Industrial Development Manager with the Harris Trust & Savings Bank.

Ronchetto said that Lake County needs continued industrial growth to provide a balanced, virile economy and to provide sufficient financial support for essential government service. He said a survey he took among industrial development personnel, local community leaders and heads of major businesses in the county indicated a belief that industry in the county will develop much faster in the next five years than during the past five.

Lake County is attractive to industry, he said, because of its physical location, diversified industry, potential seaport facilities of Waukegan harbor, excellent supply of electric power, gas and water, reasonable tax schedule and a good school system; because of its location between Milwaukee and Chicago, good highway network, excellent living and recreational areas and fine production record by labor, and its central location, easy to serve with rail, truck and water.

Available industrial property in Cook County is becoming very limited. The cost of land in Lake County is presently on attraction, as is the closeness to Chicago markets. The new zoning ordinance, Ronchetto said, is well conceived and thought out.

The problems uncovered by his survey, Ronchetto said, are that municipalities are not pulling together on mutual problems such as zoning for industry; there are not many rail-served sites zoned industrial; availability of municipal utilities is limited; not enough land is zoned for industry with water and sewers; outdated zoning ordinances and building codes in several communities; labor supply is short; lack of initiative from leaders; traditional "wide open" policy on law enforcement; housing is inadequate; and opposition of some communities to the influx of business.

Suggestions made by participants in the survey to help achieve the soundest economic growth for the county included: Development of a more favorable attitude toward industry; proper planning and development of housing in all price categories; dedicated attention to honesty and economy in government; protect by zoning those properties best suited to industry; streamline zoning regulations to make it easier for industry to acquire property; a junior college development; countywide water and sewers; trade school training; keep county politically clean; more industrial parks.

Ronchetto suggested that steps should be taken to organize a community development corporation composed of business leaders who are

Communion will be observed in all Christian Science branch churches this Sunday. "Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. ## Team Up For Safety On Little League Diamonds

The Cincinnati Reds, the Babe Ruth League, and an insurance organization have teamed up in an effort to keep youth league ballplayers on the field and off the disabled list.

They've made the first movie designed to coach young athletes in the prevention of baseball injuries.

In the color motion picture "Play Ball, Play Safe," Vada Pinson, Jim Maloney, John Edwards and other Reds stars give safety tips while a Babe Ruth team demonstrates diamond "don'ts."

The public service film was produced and is being distributed nationally by Aetna Life & Casualty, a leading writer of accident insurance for athletic teams.

"Play Ball" singles out these safety angles:

Sliding—Form a "4" with your legs by bending one under the other. Clench both fists and hold your arms high, away from your body. A ways complete the slide you start.

Exercise—Players should arrive at a game in time to "warm up." A pitcher should throw easily for 20 minutes before entering a game on a cold day, 15 minutes on a hot day. Pre-game exercises for fielders should include easy throwing, simple calisthenics and from five to 15 running sprints. These also help keep players in top physical condition, an important safeguard against injuries.

Equipment—Team and player equipment should be of good quality and kept in sound condition. And it should be used when required. Sliding pads cannot help a player who "forgot them" a home. Be especially watchful for a faulty catcher's mask and shin guards, loose webbing in a fielder's glove, and cracked bats.

Field Condition—Members of the home team should police their field at least once a week. A good way is to fan out along the first base line and move through the infield, picking up all foreign matter that could flip a ball into a "bad hop."

The infield dirt should be raked and the outfield checked for hazards.

When injury strikes—Report an injury, no matter how minor, to your manager. Immediate attention to a minor injury can prevent more serious trouble later.

The public service film also has a special reminder to team managers: Don't risk aggravating the injury of a player, even in an important game. Playing an injured boy could produce problems that far outweigh the outcome of a game.

Schools and sport and community organizations can obtain "Play Ball, Play Safe" for showings on a free-loan basis by writing to the Information and Education Department, Aetna Life & Casualty, Hartford, Conn. 06115.

Jack Rabbit Shoot At McHenry Proves Popular

By Harry H. Stern

The second running of the McHenry Sportsmen Club's Jack Rabbit Shoot Saturday, July 2 resulted in the usual closely contested battle, with a triple tie for first place in the Lewis class.

Ellis Fuqua, prominent Waukegan attorney, and a newcomer to the McHenry Club's shoots, along with Joseph Lally and Adrian Armit divided first place honors between them. Fuqua also garnered the long run gonfalon. Edward Keopke captured first place in Class A by a lone bird. He also knocked off long run money. The score:

Class A—E. Keopke, McHenry, 25-23 Long run—Keopke—38.

Class B—A. Armit, McHenry—21-22 J. Lally, McHenry—21-22 S. Fuqua, Waukegan—20-23 Long Run: Fuqua, 12

The next Jack Rabbit Shoot is set for Saturday, August 6, at 2 p.m. All gun slingers are invited to attend and shoot it out.

Two Mystery Bird Shoots are on the Club's calendar for the month, the first scheduled to take place Sunday, July 10, and the second on Sunday, July 24th, both starting at 11 a.m.

In this type of shoot a mystery bird is released from the traps at unknown intervals.

No Injuries In Spectacular Crash

Jim Cossman raced high on the track and into the feature lead with only seven laps remaining Saturday night at the Waukegan Speedway, but the big story came in the semi-feature event—a first lap, high speed crash among the front cars in the opening lap proved again that Waukegan is where the action is.

With shades of the recent Indianapolis first lap mixups, one car bumped another who scraped a third as 18 cars charged into the first turn of the semi-feature. Toby Aaron was the third in line and his Ford went out of control and started a violent roll-over in the first turn. Jim Pasley, directly behind Aaron, slowed but was struck from the rear by Ray Dixon and these two locked together. While Aaron's racer continued to roll, Pasley's car climbed atop Aaron's.

Pasley shot high into the sky with Dixon's car still clinging on. . . and Aaron's still rolling. Finally Aaron stopped upright. Pasley's Ford dived to the ground, nose first, with the rear end still resting on the roof of Aaron's demolished car. Dixon's Chevy II finally broke loose from Pasley's car and the front end of the Chevy II was resting in Aaron's rear window.

Pasley emerged from his car immediately and was unhurt as was the story with Dixon, who returned to win the event. Aaron miraculously crawled from the crushed vehicle unaided. He was rushed to St. Theresa Hospital with possible battery acid burns and minor cuts, but returned to the track later that night. All three drivers will be back in action next weekend at Waukegan.

REIMER WINS FIRECRACKER '50'

Defending champion, John Reimer, swapped the lead position with Whitey Harris for ten laps before winning the Firecracker '50' for modified stock cars at the Waukegan Speedway Sunday night.

The 20 lap late model feature proved to be a real thriller as no less than six

White Division Takes L.L. All Star Game

The Gray Division All-Stars had their hands full on Independence Day as the White Division All-Stars whiplashed them 30-7.

The White Division All-Stars had only 19 hits but were helped with 16 errors made by the Gray Division.

The teams were made up of boys picked by their managers. There were home runs by White, who plays for the Sox in the Gray Division, and Revell who plays for the Tigers in the White Division.

Standings
White Div. Gray Div.
Tigers 8 1 Sox 4 5
Yankees 5 4 Cubs 4 6
Dodgers 5 5 Giants 2 7

Backed by home runs by Mike Ricker and Jim Revell, the Tigers won their seventh game last Tuesday, beating the Cubs 7-1. Revell, the winning pitcher, gave up only 1 unearned run on 3 hits while the losing pitcher Jim Erdman, gave up 10 runs on 7 hits.

The Dodgers jolted the Giants last Wednesday by the score of 14-6. It was the second win for Palowski and the third loss for Sterbenz.

Chip Gross won his third game in a row, leading the Cubs to a victory over the Sox, 5-2. For the Cubs, it was their 4th win, putting them within 1½ game of first place in the Gray Division.

The Tigers continued their string of victories to eight by beating the Dodgers 13-7. Losing this game slipped the Dodgers from a tie in second place in the White Division down to third. The winning pitcher was Mike Ricker, with Mike Gutowski coming in on relief.

different leaders thought that they might carry the checkered flag. Duane Morgan, Dick Strom, Earl Baldino and Wille Winchester all lead at various stages of the opening laps. By the tenth lap, it was Winchester.

Jack Ester, Jim Luther, Jim Cossman, Dennis Burgan and Ken Becker in close formation. In the 15th lap, Burgan brought the fans to their feet as he moved from fourth to first in one straightaway, but Ester and Cossman sailed back past him and the three raced across the finish line in a crowd pleasing blanket finish, Ester winning.

Racers Pick On Judge's Stand

Numerous crashes and plenty of red hot competition kept the fans on their feet throughout the evening's races as three cars were demolished in the family car race and several stock cars were badly damaged.

The judges' stand was the target of the evening and was hit by stock cars in two events. Lou Mierendorf of Kenosha hit the judge's stand in a heat race sending officials in all directions; later Joe Baiding of Bassett, Wis. repeated the performance.

After a tangle in the feature event Chuck Davis' car caught fire but Davis escaped injury by jumping from the moving car.

Fast time Dennis DeMet, Union Grove, 50.21 mph.

Heat winners: Roger Hagl, Lake Villa; Harvey Cebrt, Oak Creek, Wis.; Lou Mierendorf, Kenosha; Delain Doles, Kenosha.

Semi 15 laps: Lou Mierendorf, Kenosha; Delain Doles, Kenosha; Dennis Horton, Antioch.

Feature 25 laps: Harold Gutchie, Kenosha, 49.63 mph. Mike Wolf, Kenosha; Delain Doles; Will Winchester, Kenosha; Allen Gutchie, Kenosha.

Family car race 8 laps, no time; winner Herb Damron, Lake Villa; demolition winner Kaye Christianson, Union Grove, Wis.

Rifles Getting In Shape

Football season for the Lake County Rifles of the Central States League is underway. Judging from the 35 or 40 rookies working out at Mundelein High School practice field, the Rifles regulars may get some of the fiercest competition of the year right in their own camp.

During this first week of the new campaign, Coach Gene Ciszkowski is conducting tryouts for the team. The veterans will report into training quarters the following Tuesday on July 12.

General Manager Bob Amann has announced a new addition to the Rifles coaching staff—Angelo Dabiero, former Notre Dame All-American, will be Assistant to Ciszkowski. Dabiero was listed on the Rifles roster last year until an injury cut short his playing career. He had been active as a successful area prep coach for the past four years and should provide the Lake Countians with some excellent coaching experience. Ciszkowski has named Dabiero as the offensive mentor of the club.

The Rifles play their home games at Weiss Field in Waukegan and are prepping for the exhibition opener against the Canton Centaurs of the Professional League of America on August 23. This should prove to be a stiff test for the local grid entry but will give them valuable game experience prior to their league opener against Sheboygan on August 27.

Electric heat is unlike any other type of home heating. It's flameless—it burns no fuel, and it keeps your whole house cleaner, more comfortable. And because an electrically-heated home stays clean longer, wall-washing and redecorating are kept to a minimum.

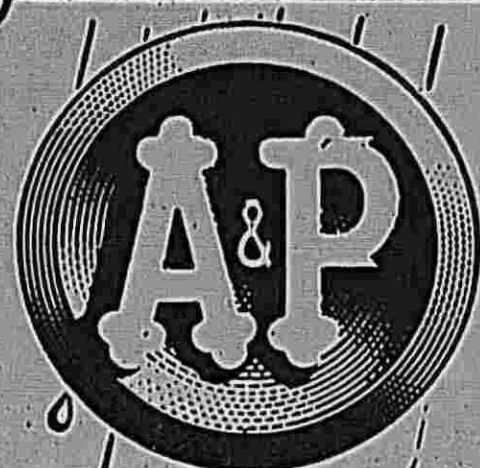

With electric heat, you can pick the type of heat you want. There are 5 basic types of flameless electric heating equipment. Depending on your heating requirements, one system may be used separately, or several may be teamed together.

If you're planning a new home or thinking of converting your present heating system, check into electric heat. You'll find that it's the most modern, convenient type of home heat today. And it's clean.
